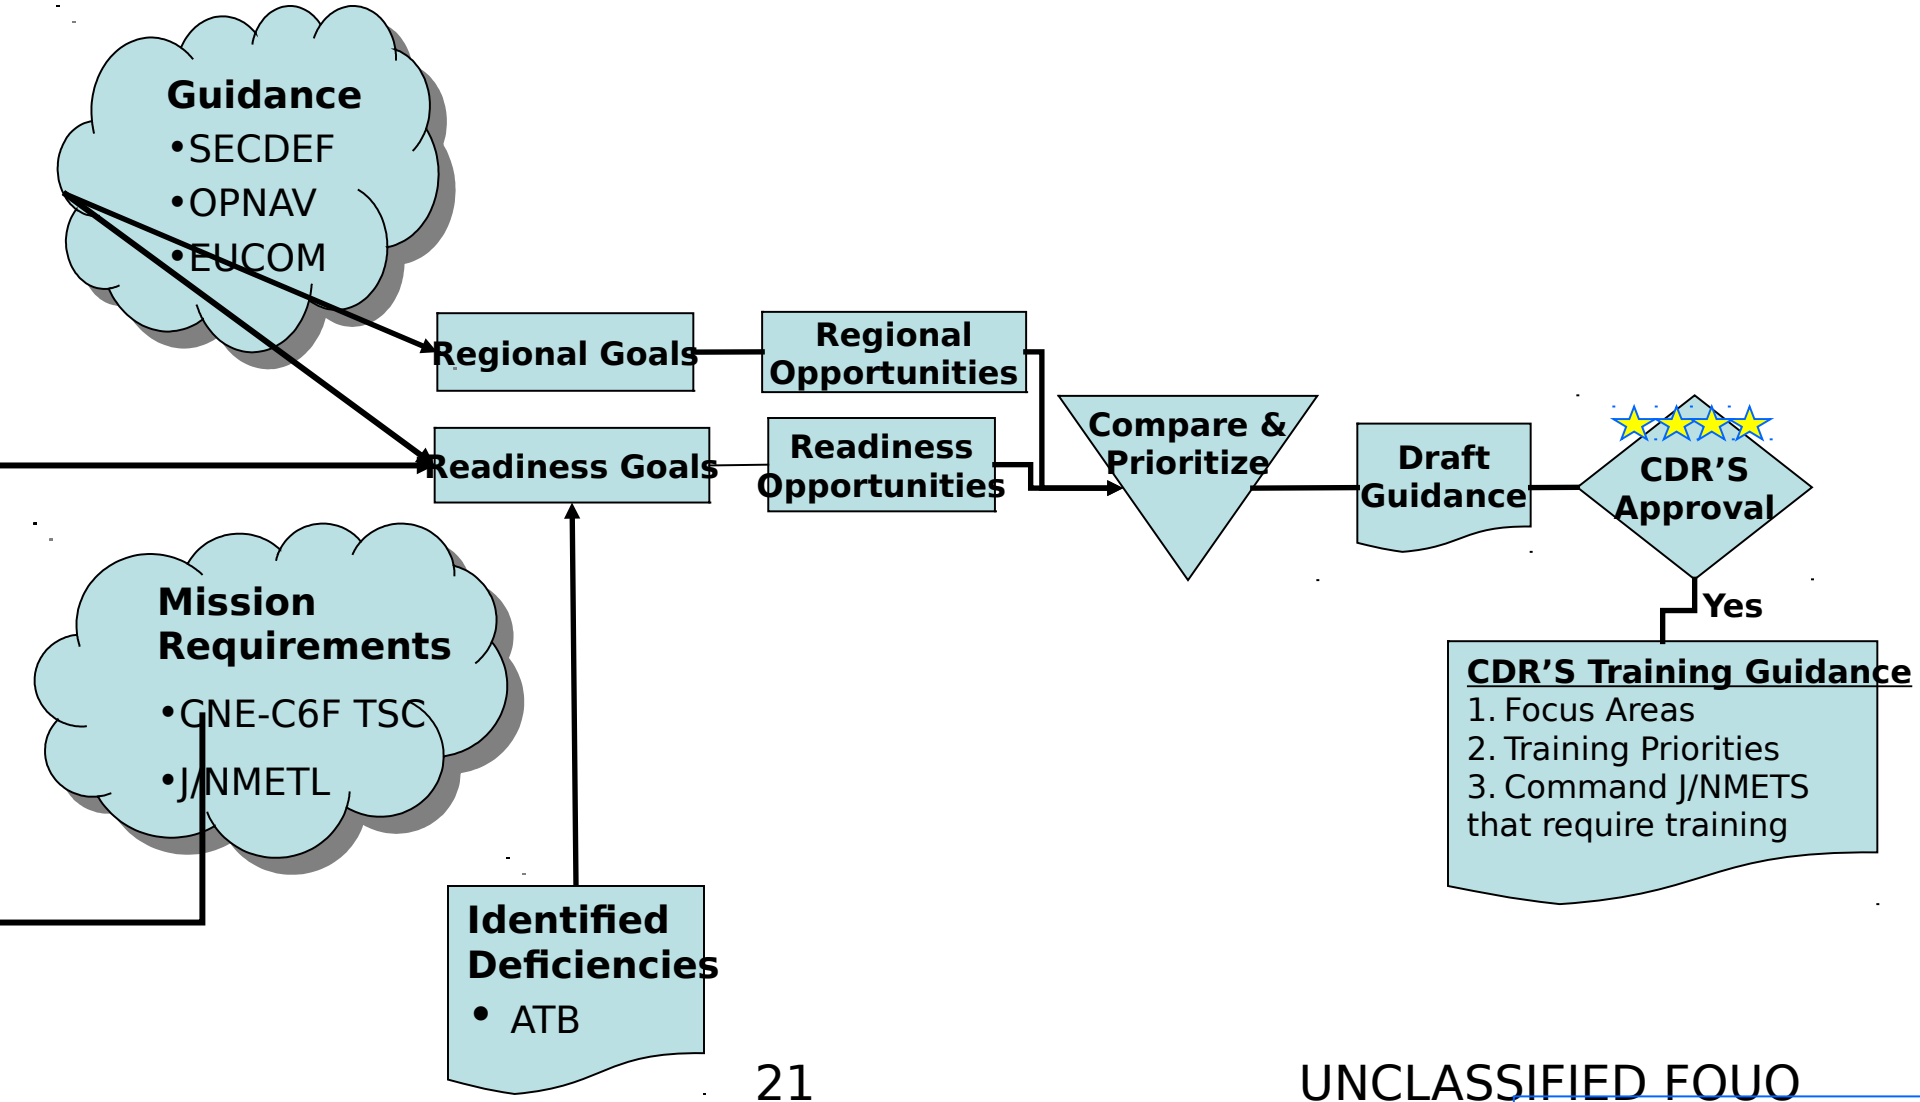
CDR'S Training Guidance



UNCLASSIFIED FOUO

CDR'S Training Guidance

Requirement: Specific annual guidance on exercise priorities, objectives, and mission essential tasks.

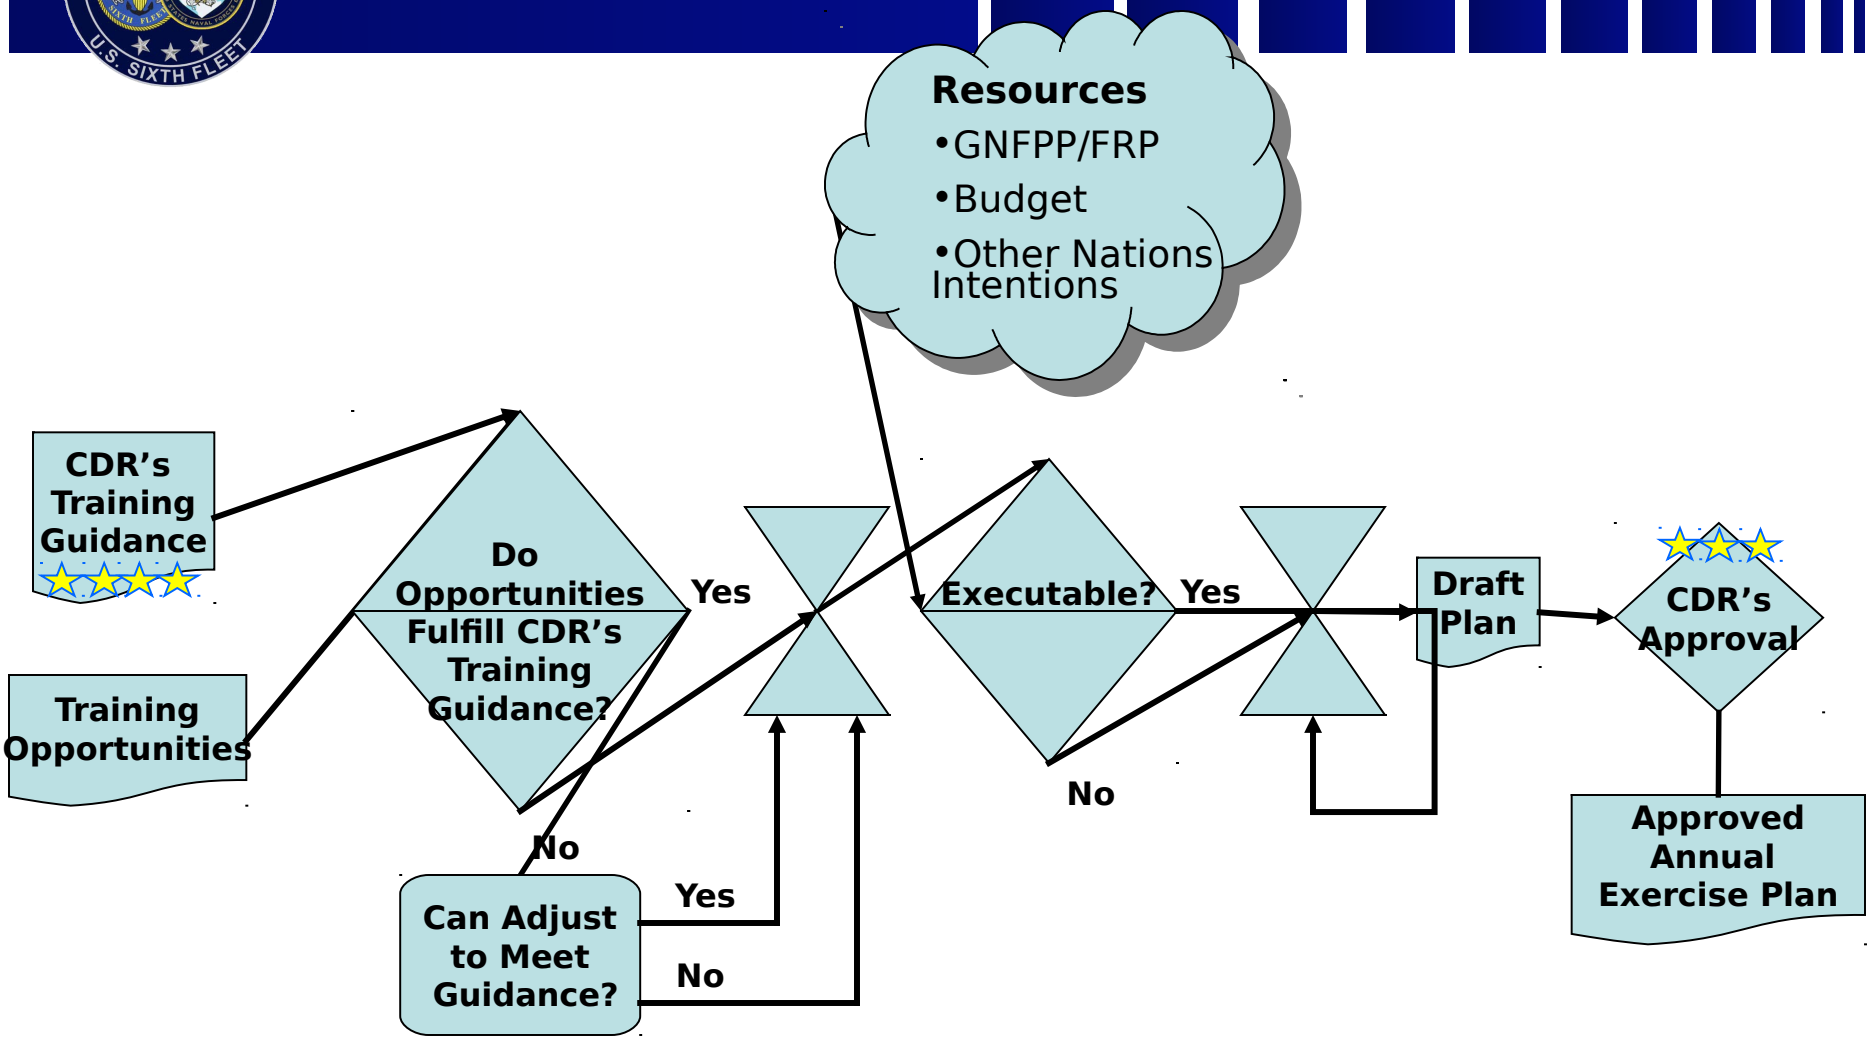
Reference: USEUCOM Annual Commander's Training Guidance, ED 55-29, CJCSM 3500.03A(JTM), CJCSM 3500.04C UJTL, OPNAV 3500.38A UNTL, SECDEF TSC Guidance, OPNAV TSC Guidance, EUCOM TSC Guidance, Previous year's Annual Training Assessment

Responsible: The Deputy Director of Plans is responsible for drafting the Commander's Training Guidance.

Reviewed (Process): The Deputy Director of Plans uses the multiple sources of exercise guidance to create training goals for regional engagement and force readiness training. Following regional goal creation, the deputy director lists regional exercise opportunities that can fulfill the regional goals. At the same time, the deputy director determines readiness deficiencies for the staff and forces in theater. The readiness deficiencies form the basis for identification of exercise opportunities to improve warfare capabilities. Once regional and readiness opportunities are identified (both being restrained by resources), the deputy director compares and prioritizes potential events. This prioritization is the foundation for the draft Commander's Training Guidance. This plan is briefed to the CDR for approval. Upon approval, written guidance is distributed to the command specifying: CDR's training focus areas, regional and readiness priorities, and Joint and Navy Mission Essential Tasks to which the CNE-C6F staff shall be trained. The CDR's Training Guidance is produced in March following the EUCOM ATB.

Release: COMUSNAVEUR is the approving authority for the Commander's Training Guidance.

Annual Exercise Plan



UNCLASSIFIED FOUO

Exercise Program Cyc

Annual Exercise Plan

Requirement: Comprehensive list of exercises for the upcoming fiscal year.

Reference: CNE-C6F Commander's Training Guidance, USEUCOM Commander's Training Guidance

Responsible: The Deputy Director of Plans is responsible for identifying all exercises to be planned/executed in the next fiscal year and a draft plan for the follow-on fiscal year.

Reviewed (Process): Using the CDR's Training Guidance, Deputy Director of Plans determines if existing exercises fulfill the guidance priorities. If so the event is added to the draft list of potential exercises. If the event does not fulfill the guidance, it is either modified to meet the guidance or US participation is cancelled or withdrawn. Upon compilation of the draft list, the deputy director determines if the exercises as listed are executable. If so, the plan is briefed to the CDR for approval. Upon approval, the list is published and planning towards execution is authorized. The exercise list is published in July.

Release: COMSIXTHFLT is the approval authority for the exercise program list.

Assess Exercises & Program

Exercise Program Cyc

Assess Exercises & Program

Requirement: Evaluate exercise performance and assess program objective achievement.

Reference: Commander's Training Guidance, Exercise Plan, ED 55-29

Responsible: The Deputy Director of Plans is responsible for after action reporting, data analysis, and programmatic assessment.

Reviewed (Process): The Deputy Director of Plans directs the after action review and the collection of lessons learned from all exercises. This feedback is returned to participating units and entered into appropriate lessons learned systems (CNE-C6F, EUCOM, JCS). In the second quarter of each fiscal year a comprehensive assessment of the exercise program as a whole is conducted as part of the CDR USEUCOM Annual Training Brief process. Actual training conducted is compared against the Commander's Training Guidance to determine if sufficient training was conducted for the required focus areas and J/NMETS. Successes and deficiencies are identified for individual exercises and the program as a whole. The data analysis conducted for this review is used to assist in formulation of the next year's Commander's Training Guidance.

Release: COMUSNAVEUR is the approving authority for the Annual Training Brief and previous fiscal year's assessment.
